

Joseph Shereshevsky <JShereshevsky@wextrust.com>
To: Brian Dinning <briandinning@hotmail.com>

Sun, M

I guess you are really reaching to try to save your self. All bets are off. Do whatever you want. We will not be getting together,. If you want to return your stuff go ahead, if not let the chips fall wherever they may fall.

I guess there was a good reason you worked for 6 different companies in the last 3 years and now it is about to be seven.

Be a good little boy and return everything you took , or you will be disbarred.

joe

-----Original Message-----

From: Brian Dinning [mailto:briandinning@hotmail.com]

Sent: Sunday, March 27, 2005 10:13 AM

To: Joseph Shereshevsky

Subject: RE: files and stuff

Dear Joe:

We were supposed to meet this morning. Your person called and said you couldn't make it.

I was not leaving files and valuables with someone I don't know.

Thanks.

Also, please do not threaten me again.

I left Wextrust for five reasons:

1. Securities violations in raising and spending investors money liability to the directors>,
2. Tax law violations in not withholding for foreign investors liability to the directors>,
3. Sexual Harassment in the workplace on multiple occasions liability to the directors>,
4. Prostitution in the workplace and on staff,
5. Vastly different world views which I could not continue working in and around.

I have written documentation of each incident above. I have not sent this to Steve or anyone else because it would be devastating to the company. However, if forced to in a bar complaint or other complaint, I would be compelled to defend myself and explain my reasoning.

So, let's do this in an orderly fashion. I'll bring any files related to Wextrust to the office at the end of the week when I return.

Thanks. Brian